1 Sentencing for Jesus Anguiano-Martinez, the defendant in the above-captioned case, is 2 currently set for April 26, 2010. However, due to unavoidable scheduling conflicts with undersigned 3 counsel for Mr. Anguiano-Martinez, the U.S. Probation Officer assigned to the case has not yet been 4 able to conduct a presentence interview. The interview has been scheduled for the soonest available
5 date, March 11, 2010. Accordingly, the parties stipulate and jointly request that the sentencing date
6 be continued to May 24, 2010, at 9:00 a.m., to accommodate this delay.

7 IT IS SO STIPULATED.
